VOTE TO RATIFY STRIKE

Delegates to Central Federa-ten Union Representing 125,-
000 Workers Take Action

WILL PARALYZE INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Organized workers in virtually every industry in Greater New York were called upon tomorrow late today to cease work at 8 o'clock next Wednesday morning in sympathy with striking traction employees. Labor leaders asserted approximately 600,000 men and women are involved.

The call was embodied in resolutions adopted at a conference of labor leaders representing the federated bodies in all the boroughs of the city as well as many national and international unions.

Hugh Frayne, New York state organizer of the American Federation of Labor, announced the determination to call the sympathetic walk-out in the following statement:

"It was decided by unanimous vote of eighty unions of Greater New York and vicinity that there shall be a general suspension of all work in all trades and industries in Greater New York and vicinity, the same to commence Wednesday, Sept. 27th, at 8 a. m."

Officers of several international unions attended the conference, Mr. Frayne said.

The call is based upon the proposition that union men "cannot retain their self respect" if they ride on cars operated by strikebreakers, according to a statement issued tonight by Ernest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union. In cases where contracts exist Bohm said the employers will be notified that the workers have no means of transportation and if the employers cannot provide transportation the workers must remain at their homes.

"The general tieup will come because employers of union labor will not provide their employees with means of transportation and from work to enable them to stay off the dangerous strikebreaking cars of the several traction lines," Mr. Bohm said.

Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company and the New York Railways company, reiterated his determination not to meet representatives of the striking car men.

Delegates to the Central Federated Union representing 125,000 workers in allied trades voted unanimously tonight to ratify the strike called for next Wednesday by union labor leaders. This action followed a similar step taken several days ago by the representatives of 200,000 members of the United Hebrew trades.

The vote was taken after the delegates heard a report from the conference of labor leaders which authorized the call and speeches in favor of a general suspension of work.

Among the trades represented at the meeting were bakers, milk wagon drivers and several branches of the garment industry. It was announced that the cutters in the ladies' tailoring trade have authorized their officers to call them out. This will mean, it is said, that sixty thousand dressmakers and ladies' tailors will be unable to work. Many women from the garment industries were present and took part in the speeches and in the vote.

Ernest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union, one of the speakers, criticized the action of the police, the attitude of Mayor Mitchell and the public service commission.

"We must take up the cudgels with the men," Bohm said. "We're fighting a fight that is not merely local, or state, but one which is a national fight for trade unionism and the right to organize."

Following is a partial list of the unions involved in the call for suspension of work:

Milk handlers, bartenders, waiters, beer brewers, house wreckers, musicians, barbers, cigarmakers, ladies' garment cutters, paper hangers, pipe caulkers and tappers, journey-men horsehoers, telephone workers, glass blowers, pressmen, painters, plumbers, neckwear cutters, furriers, cloak makers, amalgamated lithographers, cap makers, stationary en-

HOYNE DECLARES HE HAS NOT CLOSED A SINGLE PRIVATE BANK

CHICAGO, Sept. 22—The closing of a number of Chicago private banks as the result of "runs" by depositors which followed an announcement by State's Attorney MacLay Hoyne that he would investigate all private banks in Cook county, prompted a statement tonight by Mr. Hoyne declaring his office had not closed or ordered to be closed a single private bank.

Chicago's tenth private bank within a month closed today. It was the Industrial Savings Bank, headed by Harry A. Dubla, president, which has deposits of approximately $800,000. Dubla declared it was solvent. Three creditors filed a petition in bankruptcy against the institution.

When the vault of Dubla's bank was opened tonight by agents of the receiver, cash and negotiable checks amounting only to $20,129 were found. A deficit of $62,368.58 had been found by investigation of the Paisley chain of private banks, three in number which closed yesterday, the state's attorney announced.

RELEASE MORRISON'S ATTORNEY ON BOND

INVESTIGATION OF MORRISON AFFAIR TAKES UNEXPECTED TURN

Judge Landis Holds Ward and Three Others for Alleged Perjury—Morrison Becomes Angered and Strikes One of the Four in the Face.

Chicago, Sept. 22—James R. Ward, attorney for Edward W. Morrison, reclusive millionaire whose wealth vanished mysteriously, was released from custody on bond tonight after an unexpected turn of affairs in federal Judge Landis' investigation of the Morrison affair led the judge to hold Ward and three others for alleged perjury in connection with the case.

Ward's bond, amounting to $15,000 was furnished by a surety company and approved tonight.

John Sommers, jeweler and one time guide of the reclusive millionaire on jaunts into the underworld, also secured his release on $2,500 bond. In court today Morrison, angered at revelations of how he was said to have been fleeced, struck Sommers in the face.

The other two persons held, Ewart Harris, a stenographer for Ward and Joseph Burnstein, a junk dealer, were unable to furnish bond and are held in the county jail. Harris is held merely as a witness.

Burnstein had accused Morrison of Parentage of Margaret and Alice Burnstein, whom Morrison adopted. It has been charged Morrison was bilked by scores of persons.

Ward held much of Morrison's property thru transfers which the court questioned. Judge Landis asked county authorities to investigate the case.

"The evidence," said Judge Landis in court, "has disclosed that Mr. Morrison has been despoiled of a large amount of his property."

The case reached Landis' court on bankruptcy proceedings brought against Morrison.

DISCUSS BRITISH INTERFERENCE WITH TRADE AND MALES

President Plans to Outline in Detail Position of U. S. so that Mr. Page May Discuss Question Fully With the British Foreign Office.

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 22—Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to Great Britain on his way here tonight to confer with President Wilson on British interference with American trade and mails was delayed for two hours at South Amboy, N. J., by a freight wreck.

Because of the delay the president and the ambassador talked for only a short time tonight, but they plan to continue the conference tomorrow morning. It was the first time President Wilson and Mr. Page have had an opportunity to confer since the ambassador's arrival several weeks ago from abroad.

The president planned to outline to Ambassador Page in detail the position of the United States government toward the British policy of interfering with American trade and mails, in order that Mr. Page may discuss the question fully with the British foreign office when he returns to London.

Mr. Wilson desired to impress on the ambassador the necessity of informing the British government that interference with the rights of the United States will not be tolerated. The president is understood to take the position that the long delays on the part of the British foreign office in answering the protests of the United States are without excuse.

The president has been studying the negotiations with Great Britain recently and has been in frequent correspondence with Secretary Lansing since coming to Long Branch. The general policy of the administration was said here tonight to continue pressing as vigorously as possible for changes in the British government's practice of interfering with American commerce. Ambassador Page was invited by the president to remain here overnight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—A letter from President Wilson declaring that the spirit and principle of militarism was "abominable" to him was made public here today by the Student Pacifist, an organization which is arranging an anti-militarist demonstration on Sept. 30th, in opposition to the new state legislation requiring military training in public schools.

The president after declining an invitation to speak wrote:

"There need be no misunderstanding as to my position. I have again and again made it as plain as language can make it. I am in favor of adequate defense and no more. The whole spirit and principle of militarism is abominable to me and I do not think that anything that has been done has been done in the militaristic spirit."

"It has on the contrary been conceived and carried out with the single purpose of rendering the country safe against external danger."

HUGHES ENDS BUSY DAY IN SOUTH BEND

TALKS TO HIS AUDIENCE AT TIMES IN A HOARSE WHISPER

During Day Nominee Takes Program in His Own Hands and Fashions It Anew to Make it Include a Speech at Every Stopping Place.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 22—Charles E. Hughes reached South Bend tonight at the "tag" end of his busiest day almost minus his voice. He spent it in twelve speeches along the way and talked to his audience here tonight at times in a hoarse whisper. Utterly wearied, travel-stained, worn by the day's exertions, which included shaking thousands of Indiana hands, the nominee faced here a large audience and his chief speech of the day.

During the day he took the program into his own hands and fashioned it anew to make it include a speech at every stopping place. At most of these places it had been arranged that he would say only a few words, but the big crowds that greeted him with cheers and applause every few miles heartened him and he talked. His doctor stood beside him at almost every station and applied throat sprays freely between talks, but his voice was frayed and ragged long before he reached South Bend. Once at Mrs. Hughes' suggestion Charles W. Farnham, manager of the tour, tagged at the nominee's coat to signal him to stop but Mr. Hughes with an emphatic gesture signified he intended to finish his address.

When he reached South Bend tonight Mr. Hughes went at once to the meeting place—his train was half an hour late—and there discussed the Adamson law, the Mexican situation, the protective tariff policy, preparedness, Americanism, protection of American rights and extravagance of the administration methods.

ADDITIONAL CHECKING OF RETURNS INCREASES LEAD OF BRUNDAGE

Barr Supporters Fail to Have Thrown Out the Vote of Several Precincts Which Have Been Under Investigation.

Chicago, Sept. 22—Additional checking of the primary returns on the vote for the Republican nomination for attorney general today increased the lead of Edward J. Brundage of Chicago over Richard J. Barr of Joliet, to 369. The result comes from official tabulations in the office of the secretary of state for 91 counties; official figures as announced in nine counties by the clerk of those counties and from Cook county unofficial returns as corrected up to noon today by the official canvass. These sources gave Barr a total vote of 100,611 and Brundage a total of 100,980.

Supporters of Barr failed today in an attempt to have thrown out of the official county count the vote of several precincts which have been under investigation by the board of election commissioners. It was charged that in these wards more votes were cast for Brundage than there were total votes cast. The election board held there was no evidence to this effect.

A further gain of 28 votes for Brundage in Cook county was reported tonight when the official canvass of four more wards was completed.

EARLY MORNING FIRE GUTS MAJESTIC THEATRE IN PEORIA

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 23—Fire early this morning (Saturday) gutted the Majestic Theatre in Jefferson between Liberty and Fulton streets. The loss is estimated at $75,000.

Firemen fought the flames from the eighth floor of the Jefferson building. Altho the theater building is in the heart of the city the flames were kept from spreading to adjoining property.

A score of roomers in another section of the building were driven to the street by smoke. All escaped safely.

German and Roumanian Reports of the Battle on the Dobrudja Conflict

SINK ENTENTE TRANSPORT

On the Somme front in France the French and British forces again have taken the offensive and been rewarded with additional gains. General Haig's men made progress toward Bapaume while General Foch's soldiers, who apparently have begun another effort to eject the Germans from Comblès and its salient in the entente line north of the Somme also met with success. After the checking of German attacks southeast of Comblès, between Leprieux farm and Ramcourt the French undertook local operations on the outskirts of Comblès itself. An organized and defended house was captured and several trenches were occupied. In these enterprises 140 prisoners were taken.

General Haig's troops straightened out their line between Martinpuich and Fliers, a distance of about one mile by taking two line of German trenches. The British front there now runs on a direct line north of the two villages.

London also records improvement of other positions on the British front.

German and Roumanian reports as to the progress or result of battle on the Dobrudja conflict.

Contradicting the announcement from Bucharest that the forces of the Central Powers were falling back, Berlin declares Field Marshal Von Mackensen has by an encircling movement, broken the resistance of the Roumanians and Russians and compelled them to retreat. Berlin says strong Roumanian forces were repulsed southeast of Toprai Sari, 14 miles southwest of Constanza, on the Black Sea coast.

Berlin and Vienna admit a reverse in the Carpathians in the Russian capture of the summit of Smotretz heights which previously had changed hands many times but declare Russian attacks in Volhynia and Southern Bukovina were checked. West of Lutsk in Volhynia, the Germans again repulsed Russian attacks, capturing 750 prisoners and several machine guns, according to Berlin and Russian assaults in Galicia north of Zboroff and in the region of Dorna Watra on the border in Bukovina and Roumania were frustrated.

Serbian and French troops continue to make progress in northwestern Macedonia. The Serbians are advancing in the Broda river region and the French are pushing forward north of Florina toward Monastir.

A Bulgarian attack on Zborsky was checked by the entente forces. Berlin and Sofia report no activity in Macedonia.

An entente transport and a French submarine have fallen victims to a German submarine and an Austro-Hungarian aeroplane respectively. The transport, reported by Berlin as completely filled, was sunk in the Mediterranean Sept. 17th. Bombs from the aeroplane sank the submarine in the southern Adriatic.

The twenty nine members of the crew were rescued and made prisoner.

London reports that a German seaplane dropped three bombs on Dover, England, Friday.

No casualties resulted. British warships have bombarded Bulgarian positions near the mouth of the Struma river in Macedonia.

Holding Down Expenses.

To William J. Hennessey of Chicago, Democratic nominee for congress in the first district of Illinois belongs the credit for maintaining real Jeffersonian simplicity even in the conduct of his campaign. Mr. Hennessey has just made an affidavit to the clerk of the house of representatives that four cents was the total of his campaign expense. This very large expenditure was occasioned when Candidate Hennessey mailed his petition for filing with the proper election official.

The House Divided.

There is a divided household down in New York City or else a few years' time has created a vast change. Mrs. George Harvey, wife of Colonel George Harvey, has just joined the Republican allies in the support of Mr. Hughes. Mrs. Harvey is to be associated with the suffrage branch of the Republican campaign. Colonel Harvey was the original presidential advocate of Woodrow Wilson and some of his public utterances have let the public in on the secret that he has had various occasions to greatly regret his action. However, Colonel Harvey still holds his allegiance to the Democratic party.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

BACK TO WORK

When I return from having fun, in rustic glades, with rod and gun, all tanned and fit and gay, I do not think it kind to prate, of fun I had, to some poor skate who couldn't get away. While I roamed mountains picturesque, Jim Wax was toiling at his desk to keep the wolf aloof; all summer long he strained his brow to lift the mortgage from the cow and also from his roof. So it would be coarse work to come to poor old Jim and say "By gum, I had a splendid time. You should have been out there with me, where one can snoop around and see all kinds of things sublime!" Instead I say, "I envy you, who always have sane work to do, and never need to skip, to keep from being doubly bored, to blow in wealth you can't afford, on some weird, bughouse trip!" Vacations are a false alarm; 'tis only distance gives them charm, for when you try them out, and sleep in tents and eat canned beans, you sigh for old familiar scenes, and hate yourself old scout!" Then Jim, whose face was sad and stern and who had woe and grief to burn, because he could not roam, looks up and says, his face alight, "I guess that's true! I think you're right! I'm glad I stayed at home!"

known," is a progressive candidate for senator from Michigan. The secretary of state gave Mr. Ford the nomination by the toss of a coin in the primary results Henry Ford was tied with Henry M. Wallace for the senatorial nomination, each receiving two votes. As the secretary of state legally doesn't know whether it is Henry Ford of Detroit or someone else by the same name, he felt compelled to certify the nomination to county clerks as unknown. One of the papers that carried announcement of this story yesterday had an item in another column that Mr. Ford's estimated weekly dividends are now $1,000,000.

Returning Goods

Washington Times:—To the masculine mind the Retail Merchants' Association has undertaken a heroic task. That organization, it is announced, has blithely launched a movement "to overcome the returned-merchandise evil."

"It can't be done," is one married man's offhand verdict. "Nothing ever looks the same to a woman after she gets it home."

From time immemorial the female has exercised the right to "take it back." Usually she succeeds, if she desires, in getting her money back. Mere man has marveled at her temerity.

He sees, perhaps, a white-haired, frail, retiring and timid creature attacking the ramparts of the sales counter, like unto a primitive cave woman. She can fight with her kind in a football scrimmage to reach the bargain counter, she can brave the most formidable floorwalker to return the purchase.

Now, the retail merchants feel that, for one thing, the health menace of the return-goods evil may help in its suppression. The cost of doing business is immensely increased, and the buyer must pay that increased cost.

Hard-and-fast rules in such a campaign may not work so well as an appeal to common sense. Such a campaign of education already has done much to reduce the cost of delivery, by teaching housewives to do all their day's ordering at one time.

Health and the Bank Account.

In these days when the talk about microbes and germs and the prevention and cure of disease is an hourly or daily affair, one hears suggestions both practical and impractical. Here's one in the former class made recently by Dr. William S. Sadler of Chautauqua fame, who was addressing a club dinner in Chicago. Heart disease, Bright's disease and various similar complaints, the speaker declared, could in a great majority of cases be prevented if proper attention were given continually to diet, the teeth and the tonsils.

But the important suggestion came when the physician said that the time should come when every well man takes an annual health audit or inventory, submitting himself for medical examination and correcting any habit that leads towards physical breakdown. Such inspection would have a large effect upon the public health and many a man would be saved for work and business for a greater number of years. There are many people who have the established custom of having their teeth examined every six months, and the suggestion is good that this inspection be not limited to the teeth.

A man's health has an intimate relation to his financial condition and Dr. Sadler's belief is that the day will come when a business man who is a borrower will be compelled to give a statement about his health just as well as about his financial condition.

Protection from Speedsters.

The increasing number of automobile accidents, especially on country roads, makes it clear that some revision of the state laws governing speed must be made. The number of accidents, not simply in this locality but from a state wide viewpoint, is amazingly large and increasing certainly in as great proportion as the number of cars in use grows. The only good thing that can be said about most of the street pavements in Jacksonville is that they make speeding practically impossible.

This condition does not apply to the country roads and now it is not at all an uncommon occurrence to see a big touring car bowling along at a rate of fifty miles an hour. This speed is dangerous not only for the occupants of the car but for the public generally, and some means will have to be devised for getting auto travel down to a safer and surer basis. The law already fixes the speed limit for country roads but no attempt has been made to enforce the law and it will be difficult, indeed, to enforce until public sentiment is aroused to such a degree that auto drivers come to realize their duty.

A continuance of present tendencies will lead to some such drastic measure as enactment of a law governing the sale of cars of great power and speed. The state governs the sale of fire arms and explosives and drugs which are classed as a menace to public safety, and the speeding automobile is rapidly taking its place in the list from which the public should be protected.

What United Action Gets.

If the farmers of North Dakota, who have formed the Farmers Non-Partisan league do not follow false prophets as leaders, the organization will become a still larger factor in the political affairs of the state. The farmers have awakened to the fact that the fifteen per cent of the public living in the cities have been making the laws for themselves and the eighty five per cent who live on the farms. So they have united in demands which seem quite radical to older and more conservative states. But they have made the politicians "sit up and take notice" and the older parties are now advocating some of the principles fostered by the Non-Partisan league. Here are some of the things the league is demanding:

State owned terminal elevators
State hall insurance departments
Exemption of improvements on agricultural land from taxation
Non-partisan primaries
State owned and operated packing and cold storage plants

State system of rural credits for short term loans to farmers so they may have money to sow and harvest their crops; and loans for landless farmers.

The Non-Partisan League succeeded in electing its candidate for governor on the Republican ticket at the primary and he and others endorsed by the league are expected to win out in November.

ATTORNEY WARD PLACED UNDER BOND

Another chapter was written in the Ward-Morrison case in Chicago Friday, when Judge Landis ordered Attorney James R. Ward held under $15,000 bond on a charge of perjury. Mr. Ward is known to a great many Jacksonville people. His transactions with Mr. Morrison wherein he acquired title to nearly a million dollars' worth of real estate have been the subject for a federal court inquiry for several weeks. The whole proceeding has greatly aroused Judge Landis, who is confident that there is something crooked in the whole transaction and that Mr. Ward has not given value received to his aged client, Morrison, for the property transferred. Joseph Bernstein was also placed under bond on a charge of perjury. It was his daughters who were adopted recently by Morrison and Bernstein recently testified in a court proceeding that Morrison was really adopting his own daughters in accordance with a deathbed statement made by Mrs. Bernstein.

WILL IMPROVE LOCAL WESTERN UNION OFFICE

Manager J. L. Pine of the Western Union has been notified of the company's decision to make extensive improvement in the local office. This is in accordance with the request made by Mr. Pine some months ago when he urged upon officials the need for better facilities. Billings have been received on most of the equipment and it will not be many weeks until the office has been wholly rehabilitated. Mr. Kitcher, owner of the building, will put down a new floor, improve the front and paint the interior and the company's equipment includes new furniture. The switch boards and wiring will be renewed and when the work is completed the office will be up to date and modern in every way.

Everything in the office will be new and dynamo power will be used instead of the old battery system, thus doing away with some 800 batteries. The local office has been one of the best paying offices in the district and Superintendent Cowan of Chicago recently recommended that the office be put in first class condition.

FUNERALS

Darwent
A very large company attended the funeral services held for William Darwent at Unity Presbyterian church in Woodson Friday at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. A. Latham, pastor of the church was in charge of the services which were of a very impressive kind. Mr. Darwent had for many years been an active member of the church, interested in various departments of the work. Taken from life almost without warning, his sudden death brought great sadness to hundreds of friends of the family in the Woodson neighborhood and for that reason perhaps the attendance at the funeral was unusually large. The minister referred to the sad circumstances of the death and to the helpful influence that Mr. Darwent had exerted as a member of the church and a citizen of the community. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Charles Iram, Mrs. John Henry, William Colton and Dr. R. R. Jones. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery, where the grave was hidden among a bank of flowers. Mrs. William Scholfield, Miss Mary Bussey and Miss Grace Obert had charge of the flowers. The bearers were John Blimling, George Cunningham, Thomas Iram, Fred Scholfield, C. C. Self and John Hoagland.

HOWARD ZAHN HAS PURCHASED HIPPODROME PROPERTY

Story is That Buick Man Has Big Plans in Prospect for Enlargement of His Morgan Street Garage.

A real estate transfer placed on record Friday showed that Thomas S. Scott has sold to Howard Zahn the Hippodrome property on East Morgan street. The property is described as lot 127 in the old plat of Jacksonville and the deed did not indicate the purchase price. Mr. Zahn could not be reached last night but it is understood that he plans to use the Hippodrome property as a garage. He owns the large brick garage building adjoining it and the two if utilized together will offer splendid space facilities. Mr. Zahn's business, large from the first, has continued to grow and there has been an insistent demand for larger quarters.

Mr. Scott purchased the property three years ago from the Misses Hayden of Park street. The lot is 60 by 200 in dimensions and the building can readily be adapted to garage purposes. Mr. Scott will hereafter will devote his entire attention to Scott's Theatre, which is open all the year round while the Hippodrome was a warm weather enterprise.

HORSE FRIGHTENED BY AUTO FALLS IN DITCH AND IS KILLED

A horse owned by Frank Ferreira of 822 East Lafayette avenue and driven by William Marion was frightened by an automobile on the state road Friday evening ran away and falling in a ditch was instantly killed.

The accident occurred on the hill on the state road just west of the Rock Bridge. The driver of the car also upset a motorcycle rider at the same time. Marion, the driver of the horse was badly bruised and it was thought he might have sustained a fractured shoulder.

After scaring the horse the driver of the car never paused but kept on his way at a high rate of speed and his identity was not learned. When the horse started to run Mr. Marion in trying to stop it jerked too hard on the lines and one of them broke. The horse which was blind fell in the deep ditch which runs along the south side of the road. The head struck in such a way that the animal's brains were dashed out.

Joseph A. Brown and Edward Schaub were returning to the city and both stopped and gave Mr. Marion assistance. The latter is engaged in cutting corn east of the city and borrowed the horse from Mr. Ferreira to go to and from work.

PHI ALPHA SOCIETY BEGINS COLLEGE YEAR AUSPICIOUSLY

Regular Session Followed by Banquet and Program of Toasts—Former Members on Program.

The college year began most auspiciously for the Phi Alpha society. A large number gathered in the hall Friday night and enjoyed a social hour and then followed a literary program continuing until after ten. Raymond Brown was received into the society and the essays, declamations and other parts of the program were excellent.

Following was the program:
Essays—Chester Berry, "The Maine"; Ernest Rutherford, "Mind Study"; and Floyd Davis, "The Moment of Vision."

Declamations—John Irwin, "The New South," Royal Davis, "Robespierre's Last Speech" and Paul Watkins, "A Vision," by Robert Ingersoll.

Orator—Robert Nesmith, "Hell Abroad."

Select Reader—Barrette, "The Little Rebel."

Extemporizer—Fred Blum, "The Societies in Illinois College."

They adjourned to the dining room of the Douglas hotel which proved too small to accommodate the whole number and some overflowed into the cafe adjoining. Carl E. Robinson was chosen toastmaster and performed his duties with the same wit, pathos and eloquence for which he is justly noted. The lateness of the hour prevents an extended notice of the affair as the last words were not uttered till one o'clock this morning.

The following were the sentiments and speakers and all speeches were filled with loyalty to the society and each other. Laughter and applause were frequent and a splendid spirit prevailed throughout.

Hugh P. Green—Phi Alpha Influence.

J. M. Butler—Phi Alpha's Record.

Ruben Cohn—Adlibitum.

S. W. Nichols—The Unprejudiced View.

Robert Heath—Phi Alpha in 1915.

Robert Nesmith—The Joint Debate.

Ralph I. Dunlap—Phi Alpha and the Mail.

In his remarks Mr. Dunlap suggested that the members of the society owed a vote of thanks to S. W. Nichols for his loyal devotion and valuable services to the society during the past years and on motion of Hugh P. Green the society by a rising vote voiced their recognition of Mr. Nichols' devotion to the interests of Phi Alpha and their due appreciation of his unswerving loyalty.

Watkins—The Gentleman at Large.

Ray Bracewell—Phi Alpha and Democracy.

Prof. L. C. Robinson of Whipple Academy was unanimously chosen an honorary member.

TREVINO INVITES GEN. BELL TO SEND SPECIAL AGENT TO CHIHUAHUA

Gen. Bell Confident His Information Regarding Villa's Attack on Chihuahua City is Accurate—States Trevino Was Caught Napping.

Chihuahua City, Mex., Sept. 22.—General Trevino announced today that if the reports of Villa's attack on Chihuahua City, to Washington by General Bell, commanding the El Paso district is the same as the version of it received here he would ask the general to send a personal representative here to investigate the facts at first hand.

Confident Information is Accurate—El Paso, Texas, Sept. 22.—"I am confident that my information regarding Villa's attack on Chihuahua City is accurate therefore I do not see that any further investigation is necessary on my part," was General Bell's comment tonight on being informed that he had been invited by General Trevino to send a special agent to Chihuahua to ascertain the facts.

"The truth is," General Bell continued, "General Trevino is up against a fact that cannot be explained away. He was caught napping by Villa. A soldier has an excuse for getting whipped, but he has no excuse for being caught off his guard. The result is, he finds he must make extreme claims to clear his reputation as a soldier."

"As the result of further investigation of the Chihuahua battle, as communicated to my superiors, has been in my belief absolutely confirmed. I stand by it and have no desire to carry the matter further."

BRADSTREET'S SAYS TRADE HAS RISEN TO VERY HIGH LEVELS

Jobbers, Wholesale Dealers, Retailers and Manufacturers all Share in the Upward Movement.

New York, Sept. 22—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Propelled by extraordinary expansion in buying power and undiminished by high prices for the trade in a collective sense, has risen to very high levels, a veritable groundswell of new buying having been experienced at leading centers this week. Jobbers, wholesale dealers, retailers and manufacturers all share in the upward movement and interior merchants, even in zones where the wheat and cotton crops are short buying freely lest there be not enough to go round later on. Some cities report record sales by retail dealers. Manufacturers in leading industries are handicapped by lack of efficient labor, and the shipments are heavy, order books remain clogged. In that excellent barometer of conditions, the steel trade, higher prices rule, deliveries are falling farther behind, domestic consumers fully recognize the futility of waiting for lower quotations and the situation seems to have arrived at the point where Europe stands ready to step in with well-nigh unlimited orders if assurances can be made that the steel will be forthcoming as needed."

SOME REMINISCENCES

The recent article by Mr. Moore regarding the reading room benefit recalls many facts and reminiscences of those early days. The Miss Hammond was a cousin of the young ladies on South Diamond street and Miss Hattie Hammond, a young lady of great ability, was a sister. She subsequently married Mr. Savage of Roodhouse and moved to the Pacific coast. Both died many years ago. Miss Eva Hammond of this city is now teaching art in Springfield, Mass. The net profits of that entertainment, two nights, were $296.10 which the writer handed over to Mrs. J. H. Bancroft, one of the officials of the reading room.

The real beginning of amateur dramatics in the city was when "Still Waters Run Deep" was presented for the benefit of the Phi Alpha society of Illinois college. The leading parts were taken by Major Geo. M. McConnell, Charles and Wm. Edgar, Miss Ida Sawyer, later Mrs. E. J. King, Miss Jackson and a teacher in the public schools. Mr. McConnell was stage manager and a good one too. "London Assurance" was the next attempt and was one of the greatest amateur successes of the city. In this Miss Belle Osgood, teacher at the State School for the Deaf, won especial honor. She would have risen to eminence on the stage but didn't try it. Instead married H. C. Hammond, who also was a teacher in the same institution and had a leading part in the play. Miss Kate Robb, Charles Edgar, C. H. Ten Eyck, Robert D. Russell, E. L. McDonald and others also had parts and the play went off finely.

A play meant lots of work in those days for there was simply a small platform in what was then Strawn's hall and to prepare a stage trestle had to be secured, joists taken in, a stage built with improvised paper scenery, wings and flats and a gingham curtain. Jacob Strawn didn't see fit to do anything to the hall so the moving spirits in the amateur world formed a society and leased the third story of the Wolcott building in which the Woodmen and other societies have since met, erected a small stage, had scenery painted by Wm. Benson, since dead, and opened it with two small plays, "A Decided Case" and "To Oblige Benson." The house was full and the hall was used on a number of occasions. Sol Smith Russell, then just attaining fame, appearing there.

At that time there was much feeling against amateur dramatics and a number of good people in the city most strenuously opposed them on moral grounds and even went so far as to make threats to the church members who belonged to the dramatic organization if they didn't withdraw. They didn't withdraw and sentiment so changed that some of the very ones so bitterly opposed to the amateurs at the time came to the writer and asked him to manage the entertainment written up by Mr. Moore.

When Mr. Strawn saw that there was a real desire for a theater in the city he had mechanics and artists come here and reconstruct the hall into a passable playhouse only the stage was distressingly small. On that stage appeared Edwin Booth in Hamlet, Jannaueck, then the Queen of tragedy, in Deborah and Mary Stuart; John McCullough in Macbeth; Laura Keane in "The American Cousin;" McKean Buchanan in Hamlet, Forrest in Richieu, Carlotta Patti and the great Mario in concert; Blind Tom and many other celebrities.

The house was opened with "Passing Cloud" by the home talent company who attained such proficiency that they put on a play successfully with but three rehearsals. Frank McDonald was a bright performer as were several others. The most daring attempt was Shylock, which was presented successfully with Mr. McConnell as Shylock.

It was a sad day for the society when Mr. McConnell moved to Chicago but the plays didn't cease and the writer was chosen leader in his stead and tho vastly inferior to his instructor, a good many plays were put on with success.

One of the very fine attempts in the history of the city was "The Lady of Lyons" with Miss Hattie Hammond and Frank Greenleaf in the title roles and W. S. Phillips as the colonel. Miss Allie Duckett took the part of the widow most ably and Grant Cullimore also shone conspicuously in his part. This was drilled by Col. Duff of Quincy, a retired actor of note.

Nicholas Nickleby presented for the benefit of the reading room was a success and as were many others put on by the home society and there is hardly any end to the reminiscences suggested by those early days.

Another grand success was the opera of the Bohemian Girl which was taken to Quincy and Springfield drawing good houses in both places. This was the especial effort of the conservatory then managed by Prof. Sanders. The renowned I. Poznanski was musical director and Col. Duff drilled the actors.

Quite a number of plays were written especially for the students of Illinois college and presented by them with success. Later on "A Celebrated Case" was presented by the high school under the management of the writer and out of that grew a club which put on a number of plays.

When the opera house was constructed the proprietors wished to have it opened wholly by home talent in every respect so a play was written especially for the occasion and presented without any outside aid at all. There have been many other entertainments by some of that old organization but this article is too long. It is only just to pay a tribute of great respect to Major Geo. M. McConnell for laying so well the foundation of the society which did so much to entertain the people of Jacksonville.

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENCE

Sedan, France, Sept.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Following the protest abroad about the action of the German authorities in deporting from the cities of Lille, Roubaix and Tourcoing several thousand of the civil inhabitants, and about the alleged hardships those civilians have had to undergo, the military authorities in the occupied portion of France recently afforded a number of neutral correspondents the opportunity to visit several hundred of the so-called "Evacuees" and see for themselves the conditions under which they now live.

A representative of the Associated Press visited two large "conscript camps" where men of military age are kept under guard—and some eight villages where large numbers of so-called emigrants, men and women live without guard and busy themselves chiefly with agricultural occupations.

With one exception—that of a conscript camp in the city of Sedan itself—the correspondent found the former residents of the cities to the northwest living under surprisingly clean, sanitary circumstances. Repeated questioning brought only the answer that the people were reasonably happy and comfortable, justly and fairly treated, and, very often far better off than they had been at home.

The correspondent ate the food which the Evacuees receive—most of it thru the Spanish-American committee with which the German authorities have nothing to do—and it appeared in general good and tasty. He was assured that in quantity it equalled the food received by the Germans themselves.

The housing conditions varied according to the ton and the quarters available in each but without exception they were spotlessly clean and airy. The second conscript camp visited was located in an old chateau or villa, and was declared by the men there to be far better than conditions as they had known them at home.

Perhaps the best testimonial for the generally prevailing sentiment was the fact that in the thirteen villages which form the group around Sedan, and eight of which the correspondents visited, only one attempt to escape had been made and the man who made that came back voluntarily.

The exception to the general rule of satisfaction on the part of the Evacuees was in the camp at Sedan, where the correspondents were told, only men of military age were kept, or men who in Lille, Roubaix or Tourcoing had prosecuted some pernicious activity that made their removal a military necessity.

Here, in a one time factory now out of business, two or three hundred persons, from boys to men of 45, were housed in close quarters. Asked regarding their condition several complained that the food was monotonous—a complaint that one can hear all the way from the front trenches to the best equipped prison camp in the country—said the bread was sour, and in some instances spoke of their illnesses, notably rheumatism and tuberculosis.

The men on week days are employed from 7 to 11 a. m. and from 2 to 6 p. m., at carpentering and construction work, for which they receive from 40 to 50 centimes a day and their food. They bathe twice weekly and receive rations equivalent to those of the common soldier, of which rice and bread form the chief components.

Both the overcrowding and the complaints that were a feature of the conscript camp in Sedan vanished as the correspondents toured the rest of the district, taking in the villages of Francheval, Villers-Cernay, Daiguy, Givonne,illy-Oillyilly, St. Menges and one or two others.

Tokio, Sept.—Prof. Robert McNatt McElroy, head of the department of history and politics at Princeton University, who is on his way to China as exchange professor has been spending some time in Japan studying the educational system of the empire. He had lengthy conferences with Premier Okuma and Dr. Takata, the minister of education. At the summer center at Karuzawa he addressed a large audience on the subject, "This Historical and Political Significance of the War." Professor McElroy will spend a year lecturing thruout China, chiefly at the University at Peking.

A GOOD CORN CROP

In the Farmers State bank are some cars of Reid's Yellow Dent corn that will grade high in the estimation of an expert. It is from a field cultivated by Everett Reynolds of the farm of his father, Ralph Reynolds southeast of the city. The land is good prairie but has only been changed from corn to wheat and oats and while not continuously cropped in corn on the other hand it can hardly be said that the fertility has had the attention which would have made it better than it is. The young man has 124 acres. He first plowed and followed right along with a harrow. Then before planting he double disced the land and harrowed again so that he had a fine seed bed and the moisture well kept down in the land. He cultivated deep at first and shallow later four times in all, and thinks he will have from forty to fifty bushels to the acre. He means to cut fifty acres and put it in wheat and the remainder he will probably haul from the stalk. The seed he bought of Mr. Zachary of this place and planted the latter part of April. At 63 cents for corn the young man will have a fair return from the land.

N. B. C. Graham Crackers added an individuality and nut-like flavor that other graham crackers lacked. This makes them an almost universally popular article of everyday diet.

The Three-in-one Majestic

The combination coal, wood and gas Range without too much mechanism; no levers to turn or twist—to get out of whack or be mis-handled.

It is the simplicity of the Majestic Combination that has made it so popular. Not a thing to change in your oven—just turn on the gas. Can be attached to your own Majestic and heat your reservoir (if its on the back end of your range.)

This gas attachment on a new Range is $7.50. On an old Range $7.50 plus the time of attaching.

Renowned Gas Saver Burner

Mixes 40 to 50 volumes of air with one volume of Gas.

REMEMBER—only three gas burners used to heat the entire top, oven and reservoir, and they burn less gas than the top burners only of an ordinary gas Range. The same burners that heat the top heat the oven and reservoir.

COUNTY WILL VOTE ON QUESTION OF ESTABLISHING SANITARIUM

Anti-Tuberculosis League Workers File Petition With County Board—Ask That Question be Submitted in November.

A petition has been filed asking the county board to submit at the November election the proposition of levying a county tax for the support of an anti-tuberculosis sanatorium. The petition contains more than the required number of names and it will, therefore, be the duty of the county board to see that the voters pass on this question. The proposition will be as to whether or not a tax not to exceed three mills shall be levied upon Morgan county property for the establishment of and maintenance of an anti-tuberculosis sanatorium. If a majority of the voters cast upon this proposition are favorable it will then be the duty of the county board to appoint three trustees who will have charge of the fund raised by taxation and in the establishment and management of the sanatorium. Statistics show that there are more cases of tuberculosis in the country districts than in the cities and towns and it is largely based upon these figures that members of the anti-tuberculosis league and others interested in the question have inaugurated the movement for the proposed tax. The Glacklin law as applied to cities provides for a one mill tax and the Glacklin law for counties is for a tax not to exceed three mills and it is discretionary with the trustees as to the exact tax rate to be fixed. In event the proposition carries at the November election it is proposed later on to repeal the city law so that there will be no double tax for Jacksonville property.

EXHIBIT OF NATIVE FLOWERS TO BE HELD AT LIBRARY

Two Hundred Pressed Flower Mounts on Display This Afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 and on Saturday evening from 7 to 8 an exhibit of nearly two hundred pressed flower mounts will be held at the library. The flowers are those which grow right around Jacksonville. If one keeps his eyes open, they are the grasses, weeds and blossoms he sees out of doors on drives and walks here at home. "Wayside songs and meadow blossoms; nothing perfect, nothing rare; Every poet's ordered garden yields a hundred flowers more fair; Master singers know a music richer far beyond compare."

"Yet the reaper in the harvest, 'mid the burden and the heat; Hums a half remembered ballad, finds the easy cadence sweet, Sees the very blue of heaven in the corn flower at his feet."

The number of the mounts, there are two hundred, and the careful workmanship expended on getting them ready for the herbarium add to their interest. They have been gathered together by a high school boy, Lawrence Cranwill. He has been working at them all summer and the summer's work is a joy to examine. It stimulates spontaneous out of door interests and from the love and study of nature have sprung the love of art, science and religion.

A few of the most attractive nature books have been arranged at a table in the south room where the flower mounts are.

Recent additions to the library are Lankester: Diversions of a Naturalist.

Coley and Weatherby: Wild Flower Preservation.
Sharp: Beyond Pasture Bars.
Baynes: Wild Bird Guests.
Walton: Flower Finder.

AUTOMOBILE AND STREET CAR MEET IN COLLISION

Mrs. Carl Joaquin, One of Street Car Passengers Injured—Walter McCormick Drove Auto Which Was Badly Damaged.

An automobile driven by Walter McCormick collide with a north bound South Main street car of the Jacksonville Railway company at the intersection of South Main and West College streets at 7:42 o'clock Friday morning.

The street car was knocked from the rails and Mrs. Carl Joaquin, one of the passengers was badly bruised. She was taken to Oru Saviors hospital where she was attended by Dr. Edward Canatsey. Examination showed there were no fractures but she suffered considerably from a pain in her right side. The physician is of the opinion that there are no internal injuries but this cannot be ascertained at the present time.

The street car was No. 35 in charge of W. L. Shawen, motorman, of 345 Franklin street. The automobile was a Maxwell driven by Walter McCormick of 269 Finley street. Mrs. McCormick was riding in the rear seat of the automobile and when the collision occurred she was thrown forward and struck the side of her face on the back of the front seat slightly bruising her cheek. Mr. McCormick was not injured.

The automobile was badly damaged. The radiator was smashed. The front frame was twisted and the strap hangers bent. The street car was only slightly damaged some paint being knocked off where the automobile struck.

Car Goes Ninety Feet.
After the collision Motorman Shawen retained great presence of mind. The car had gained great momentum from the additional power given it to avoid the collision. Shawen immediately applied the brakes when he felt the car leave the track. However it traveled about ninety feet before it stopped. When it finally stopped the front end was within a few inches of one of the iron trolley poles and the side of the car had grazed a wooden pole.

Motorman Tells of Accident.
W. L. Shawen, who was in charge of the car has been in the employ of the company for over eight years. He made the following statement:

"I was running car No. 35 going north. When approaching College street I saw the automobile about 85 feet west of the crossing headed west. When the automobile was within about 25 feet of the crossing the driver apparently did nothing to stop."

"I applied additional power in an effort to clear the crossing. The automobile was coming too fast and the front end of the automobile struck the rear left end of the car, smashing the radiator and front frame and bent the strap hangers and slightly damaged rear left end of street car. The automobile in approaching the crossing was on the north side of College street."

Mr. McCormick's Story.
Mr. McCormick said he was driving east on West College street Friday morning. Owing to the building of the LaCrosse Lumber company being right on the street line he could not see south any great distance. When he saw the street car he slowed up but could not stop in time to avoid the collision altho he says he used his brake. Mr. McCormick gave as his opinion that he was going at a rate of about 10 miles an hour.

Passengers on Car.
There were a number of passengers on the car. Those in addition to Mrs. Joaquin were: A. W. Ruethecher, 1218 South Clay avenue, Miss Burke, Pennsylvania avenue, Miss Faylor, South Diamond street, Charles Hackett, 1498 South Main street, Miss Mabel Conboy, 301 East Greenwood avenue, S. P. Carter, 716 Routt street.

Mr. Hackett was standing on the rear platform when the collision occurred. He saw the automobile was going to hit the car. When it did Mrs. Joaquin was apparently thrown off the seat. Mr. Hackett was unable to say whether or not she had tried to get out of the car. She fell and struck her side on the seat and he went to her assistance.

Owing to the loss of her husband in an automobile accident a few weeks ago Mrs. Joaquin has been in an extremely nervous condition. It is probable that she suffers more from shock than from any serious bodily injury.
